SUMMARY

I am Anoj Pathak, an IT student currently studying at Texas College of Management and IT in Kathmandu, Nepal. Passionate about both technology and sports, I spend my days delving into IT subjects while enjoying my free time playing cricket and football. With a zest for learning and a love for sports, I embodies a balanced lifestyle that encompasses both academic excellence and athletic pursuits. Currently, i am embarked on a journey to hone my skills in app development and web development.
